THIRTY-SIXTH YEAR

LIMA, OHIO, TUESDAY, MARCH 28, 1922

PRICE THREE CENTS

SPRING IS HERE

DEAR FRIEND:
I have sundry reasons for believing that spring is right over the hills, carrying in her train blossoms, smiles, perfume, happiness and a growing world. My gas bill is decreasing.

I have a notification that some new maple sirup is on the road. The tulips are up three inches and a lone daffodil spread its yellow glory this very morning. Also the birds have small use for the bread I scatter in the back yard, for the early worm is out and reaping the reward that naturally comes to early worms.

This morning I would very much like to turn the clock back. Brother Tom and I would awake in the little room in the little house in that little town of Austinburg and would gain permission to go fishing. If the gods were kind and chores had been done, Deacon Joshua Jones, as an especial kindness, would twist his dignified face into the shadow of a smile and give dispensation to his grandson, Lucien, to go with us.

You cannot make me believe that some of those old-timers, men of long prayers and proper mien, ever passed thru the stage of boyhood. They were born with teeth and responsibilities. They put on principles as some of us do clothes. Joy was criminal. Don't tell me. I've been there. I've felt the repression; the pinching, the spirit of "thou shalt not," the eternal something that made them say "No" when there was no human reason for not saying "Yes," and this intruded in every human thing from the will to dance to the desire to play jazz music on the piano on Sunday. These were way stations on the road to hell, dear reader, and if one cared for a little trip to fish for bullheads or go in swimming, and there was any work that could be scared up on the place, to the flames with him, brother, to the flames!

I suffered some myself, and so the outburst is explained, but we'd bolt our breakfast, kiss mother goodby, and run across the fields. I never owned a fishing outfit that was not home-made. No disciple of Izaak Walton ever got more joy out of fishing than we did in the creek at Austinburg, with alder poles, a blue and white bobber, and hooks two for five at Frank Barnes' store. Right after a summer rain was the time, and near dusk the bullheads bit voraciously. Not much skill was needed. You impaled a worm and if the squirming thing didn't like it, so much the worse for the worm. Ed Lathrop, the big boy across the road, told Tom and I that if we would bite the worms gently the process would make the fish bite better, and we did it. I cannot say that I recommend this. I would have to go without food for a long time before I would set my teeth into any more anglegods, as they were called.

We pulled the fish out about as fast as we could bait and throw the lines in. The fish were from four to seven inches in length, and I believe their book name is horned dace. They had no scales, and their bones are soft, and fried in flour and butter they can be eaten bones and all and they are GOOD in box car letters.

We always killed a few snakes, and that is a matter that makes me wonder. We felt that it was a duty and that the whole snake family should be annihilated and so we did our part and boasted of our prowess. What a lot of ignorance there is in the world!

Anyway, I repeat that I would like to go fishing this Sunday morning with Tom and Lucien, and we would stop at the cheese factory and ask Mr. McDowell for some curd, on the way home.

Sometimes the change in the world frighten me, and yet they are natural.

Lucien is dead; the cheese factory is gone, the creek has all but disappeared. Who was it said that nothing in the world is permanent but change?

WILSON REFUSES POLITICAL TALK

Declines Discussion Invited by Legion Chief

CHICAGO — (Associated Press) — Woodrow Wilson has declined to discuss current political issues in response to an invitation to do so by Palmer D. Edmunds, past commander of a local post of the American Legion and chairman of the service men's organization of the regular Democratic organization. The former president, in replying to Mr. Edmunds, however, makes the declaration of his belief "that we shall very soon find wide away the ugly record we made in failing to fulfill the objects for which our gallant men fought."

"Certainly service men above all others are qualified to express their devotion to the principles we believe in," says the letter to Mr. Edmunds. "It was for those very principles that they offered their lives. For my part I believe those principles to be in themselves so powerful that no political blindness or inequity can defeat their triumph. I believe that triumph to be immediately at hand and that we shall very soon indeed wipe away the ugly record we made in failing to fulfill the objects for which our gallant comrades fought."

Harding, Willis Again at Odds Over Appointment

WASHINGTON — (United Press) — Unless President Harding complies with Senator Willis' request and invites him to the White House for a conference on the successor to District Attorney Clark for southern Ohio, indications are that another patronage situation may develop similar to that created when the president appointed Charles N. Nauts, of Toledo, to be internal revenue collector over Willis' protest. Willis has been unable to obtain a conference with the president, despite repeated efforts. The senator is standing pat for C. J. Howard, of Barnesville, while Harding favors J. Clark Hughes, of Piqua.

Clark quits April 1, and as that date approaches, it appears that the president may send the nomination to the senate without consulting Senator Willis.

WINS $100,000 IN GEMS BY BECOMING FATHER OF GIRL

OAKLAND, CAL. — James C. Blum, Jr., by becoming the father of a girl, has won the right to inherit two necklaces, one of diamonds and the other of pearls, valued together at $100,000. His mother, Mrs. Rosa Blum, bequeathed them to be his when his wife gave birth to a daughter. Blum, who already had come into possession of the rest of his mother's $330,000 estate, brought suit last year to get the necklaces because his wife had borne a son. He contended that this was sufficient close to fulfilling the terms of the will, but the court thought otherwise and dismissed the case.

HOME IS ROBBED OF $50,000

Chicago Millionaire's Family Locked in Vault by Gang

CHICAGO — (United Press) — Invasion of the mansion of Arthur W. Cutten, multi-millionaire broker, by nine masked raiders who seized $50,000 worth of property, was Chicago's boldest crime in years, police said today.

The bandits smashed their way into Cutten's home, situated in the center of an 80-acre estate, near Downers Grove, and locked the family and servants up in a liquor vault. Jewelry and silverware were scooped up in sacks. One hundred cases of pre-war whiskey were loaded on a truck.

Servants pursued the bandits with shot guns, but an escape was made. Immediately after the robbery, which occurred at the dinner hour last night, Cutten offered a reward of $1,000 for capture of the raiders.

Other "thrillers" on Chicago police records today were:

Bandit entered the grocery of Jacob Pollak. With a gun in each hand he forced customers against the wall. Policeman Raymond Green entered. The two fought a duel. The bandit was killed.

Mrs. Edna McKenzie discovered a burglar in her apartment. He fled. She grabbed a shotgun and pursued him. The burglar, who gave the name of Norman Toys, was captured, and turned over to police.

Two bandits raided the Ray clothing company in the heart of Chicago's Loop district and escaped with a large supply of clothing.

DAUGHERTY HITS CIVIL SERVICE

Attorney General Favors Abolition of the System

(BY HERBERT W. WALKER)

WASHINGTON — (United Press) — Abolition of the civil service system of selecting government officials and a restoration of the old plan of basing appointments on political recommendations is favored by Attorney General Daugherty.

This was revealed today by testimony of Daugherty before a subcommittee of the house appropriations committee.

Daugherty said his views were personal and that he was not speaking for the administration.

The attorney general frankly said he considered the civil service inefficient, stating he was thoroughly convinced it has been an expensive experiment for the government. Without the civil service, he believes, the government could operate with two-thirds less employees than are now on its payroll.

"I suppose I have been voting in party platforms and local elections for the civil service proposition for many years—but I am thoroughly convinced that the civil service is a hindrance to the government," said Daugherty.

"I would rather take the recommendation of a political committee, either Democratic or Republican, a self-respecting committee, for the appointment of a man or woman, than to be compelled to go thru the requirements of the civil service to secure an employee."

"They are hardly as ambitious, hardly as energetic, under the civil service as those not under the civil service. I discovered both before I came here as attorney-general and since, that civil service employees spend too much time in trying to work out plans to make themselves secure in their positions. While this situation cannot be remedied at present, still it is worthy of careful study."

Doctors Oppose Restrictions on Alcohol in Medicines

CINCINNATI — (Associated Press) — By unanimous vote the Cincinnati Academy of Medicine adopted a resolution last night to oppose any restrictions in the use of alcohol in the manufacture of drugs.

Several weeks ago Dr. Gordon F. McKim, president of the Academy of Medicine, appointed a committee to investigate a proposal now pending before prohibition officials to prohibit druggists using grain alcohol in the preparation of medicine and to compel them to send such medicines to distilleries and have the necessary amount of alcohol added.

The committee reported that the use of denatured alcohol in medical preparations "would be detrimental to the public welfare in that it would nullify the results of years of experiments. The resolution as adopted by the Academy of Medicine, representing the leading medical organizations in Cincinnati and vicinity, will be sent to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon."

PETITION FILED AT COLUMBUS

Amendment to State Constitution Proposed by Wets

WOULD PERMIT BEER, WINE

Object is to Determine Sentiment of Citizens

COLUMBUS — (United Press) — Petition proposing beer and light wine amendment to the Ohio constitution was filed today with Secretary of State Smith by F. W. Marcolin, Cleveland, secretary of the Ohio division of the National Association Opposed to Prohibition.

The proposed amendment would permit the sale of 2.75 per cent alcoholic beverages for consumption in homes and hotels and the manufacture of stronger drinks for personal use only.

The petition requires 200,000 signatures to get the proposed amendment on the ballot for the fall election.

The Ohio vote is sought to determine whether there has been a change of sentiment on prohibition and the amendment even if adopted would have no effect until action is taken by congress, modifying present restrictions.

BAN ON WOMEN'S SMOKING LIFTED

Gloom Replaced by Joy in New York City

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Police Commissioner Enright today lifted the ban on smoking by women in public as suddenly as he clamped it down last night, when he learned that Alderman McGuinness' anti-smoking ordinance had never been passed by the board of aldermen or signed by Mayor Hylan.

Daniel W. F. McCoy, an employee in the city clerk's office, was led forth, disarmed in sack cloth and ashes as official "goat" for an error that had set pro and even anti-smoking women on the warpath from the Battery to the far reaches of Harlem.

NOT OFFICIALLY STAMPED

McCoy, it was explained, was charged with clipping the official record for resolutions and ordinances that have been adopted and approved by the mayor and sending them along to the proper officials for enforcement.

McCoy still was too much overcome by the wrath that had descended upon his head to explain just how he happened to include the anti-smoking bill in his list of ordinances adopted and approved.

City Clerk Cruise rallied to McCoy's defense, however, and intimated broadly that the clerk's office by no means had a corner on "ivory." Had Police Commissioner Enright or his aides read the purported ordinance carefully, he declared, they would have discovered it was not a proper document as it did not bear the stamp of the clerk's office certifying that it had been approved by the mayor.

SOURCE OF GRATIFICATION

News that it was all a mistake came like a reprieve from the gallows to proprietors of scores of places where gratification of lady's passion for the soothing weed was the chief source of bread and butter revenues. Fashionable smoke shops for women had sprung up in Fifth-av, Broadway and other advanced centers, while Greenwich village had come to depend almost exclusively on smoke rings to produce an atmosphere of Bohemianism, since the passing of the "cup that cheers." But the ordinance making it a crime for proprietors of public places to let women smoke, loosed upon a thunderstruck town last night by squads of Commissioner Enright's finest, did not stop with spreading gloom in advanced places.

It even had its effect on downtown cafeterias where stenographers and women clerks foregather for lunch. For the "smoking evil" the ordinance was designed to check the spread of smoking by New York women in many walks of life.

Taxicab drivers were beginning to worry too, for fear the conveyances might be ruled public places and banned as smokers for fair fares enroute from the theatre, thus causing a switch to the subway route.

Alderman McGuinness, father of the ordinance that had a hectic life from sundown to sunrise, was almost the only New Yorker discoverable today who seemed to regret its passing.

KLAY IS HAULED INTO MICHIGAN

FILLING STATION ROBBED

Attendant Slightly Injured by Gang in Automobile

Automobile bandits held up the gasoline filling station on Bellefontaine-av, owned by S. G. Parks, 507 E. Market-st., shortly after 6 o'clock Tuesday morning, carried away more than $100 in cash and kidnapped John J. Klay, 504 E. Kibby-st. attendant, and robbed him.

Klay was dropped from the bandits' machine at Rockwood, Mich., at noon. The bandits were captured further along the road towards Detroit and have been identified by Klay. They are held in a Michigan jail.

KLAY NOT BADLY HURT

Klay wired friends and relatives here at noon that he had been hit over the head, but was not seriously hurt and that he is returning to Lima. He said the yeggs who carried him away were identified.

The bandits drove up to the station soon after it was opened. It is located near the intersection of Bellefontaine-av and Kibby-st. What happened then is only conjecture as Klay did not take time to inform relatives concerning the details when he wired.

The absence of Klay was noticed by Carl Zimmerman, who operates the S. G. Parks farm nearby, when two machines stopped for gasoline shortly after 6:30 and Klay did not appear. Zimmerman started an investigation and found the place had been rifled, all the cash taken and Klay missing. Klay's overcoat remained at the station.

HEARD BANDITS' CAR

Zimmerman remembered having heard a machine at the station while he was eating breakfast. His attention was directed to it by the noise it made. It was supposed that it was the one that carried Klay away and a search was immediately started. Police here notified surrounding cities, but the bandits apparently passed thru Toledo unmolested as it was on the Toledo-Detroit rd that they were captured.

There was evidence of a scuffle in the station which convinced friends that Klay had put up a fight. It was probably then that the yeggs hit him. It is believed they thought him dead or badly hurt, which caused them to take him with them.

WIFE IMPROVED

Klay is married and has two children. His wife was prostrated this morning, but is in a better condition now that she knows he is safe. He is held in very high esteem by his employer and friends and the theory of kidnapping was the only one entertained. He is 34 years old.

A filling station attendant was kidnapped at Bowling Green a few days ago and carried to Toledo, where he was released. It is believed the same gang is responsible. Klay did not say how many men were in the machine which kidnapped him.

The bandits will be brought back here for trial. No arrangements for their return had been made by police at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon.

Artillerymen Direct Unloading of Ordnance for Parks

Veteran artillerymen from the American Legion and Battery A, 165th Field Artillery, under charge of Major Frank H. Hume and Captain Calvin Selfridge supervised the unloading and placing of two howitzers secured for Lima parks by Congressman John L. Cable. The big rifles arrived from Camp Jackson, South Carolina, Tuesday.

An offer to assist city was made to Manager Bingham by the two officers. City workmen performed the labor, their efforts being directed by the cannoners.

One rifle, complete with caisson, will be placed in Lincoln park and the other in Faurot park. The pieces of ordnance are Model 1918 guns, a type discarded by the war department at the beginning of the war.

Freight on the cannon amounted to $115. Manager Bingham said. Originally it was planned to obtain the guns from Rock Island, Illinois, arsenal, at a much less expense.

PETITION FILED AT COLUMBUS

Amendment to State Constitution Proposed by Wets

WOULD PERMIT BEER, WINE

Object is to Determine Sentiment of Citizens

COLUMBUS — (United Press) — Petition proposing beer and light wine amendment to the Ohio constitution was filed today with Secretary of State Smith by F. W. Marcolin, Cleveland, secretary of the Ohio division of the National Association Opposed to Prohibition.

The proposed amendment would permit the sale of 2.75 per cent alcoholic beverages for consumption in homes and hotels and the manufacture of stronger drinks for personal use only.

WARNING TO DRY FORCES SOUNDED

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press) — Official notification that petitions are to be circulated calling for submission to the voters of a constitutional amendment that would permit the manufacture of light wines has been brought forth a statement today from James A. White, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League that such action is a "call to dry forces of the state to organize and meet this attempted nullification of the present prohibition laws."

Superintendent White's statement follows: "The filing with the secretary of state by the brewers of a petition to amend the Ohio constitution thereby permitting the manufacture and sale of a beer containing 2.75 per cent alcohol by weight, makes the wet and dry question a prominent one in Ohio this year. This amendment, if adopted, will reopen the breweries of the state and permit the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor in homes, hotels and clubs and will re-establish beer saloons throughout the state, thereby nullifying the effect of the Ohio prohibition amendment and the eighteenth amendment to the federal constitution."

"This same proposal was defeated in 1919 by about 30,000. With the women voting, it ought to be overwhelmingly defeated. This is a call to the dry forces of the state to organize and meet this attempted nullification."

The proposed amendment, besides permitting manufacture and sale of beer with 2.75 per cent alcoholic content by weight, would declare such liquor to be non-intoxicating and could be sold for consumption only in homes or legal places of abode. The average or less than one per cent alcoholic content could be sold for consumption at places other than homes.

Possession of liquors in the homes, if not intended for sale, would be permissible, and no home could be searched without a search warrant.

Klay's overcoat remained at the station.

HEARD BANDITS' CAR

Zimmerman remembered having heard a machine at the station while he was eating breakfast. His attention was directed to it by the noise it made. It was supposed that it was the one that carried Klay away and a search was immediately started.

Police here notified surrounding cities, but the bandits apparently passed thru Toledo unmolested as it was on the Toledo-Detroit-rd that they were captured.

There was evidence of a scuffle in the station which convinced friends that Klay had put up a fight. It was probably then that the yeggs hit him. It is believed they thought him dead or badly hurt, which caused them to take him with them.

WIFE IMPROVED

Klay is married and has two children. His wife was prostrated this morning, but is in a better condition now that she knows he is safe. He is held in very high esteem by his employer and friends and the theory of kidnapping was the only one entertained. He is 34 years old.

A filling station attendant was kidnapped at Bowling Green a few days ago and carried to Toledo, where he was released. It is believed the same gang is responsible. Klay did not say how many men were in the machine which kidnapped him.

The bandits will be brought back here for trial. No arrangements for their return had been made by police at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon.

CANNON ARE HERE

Artillerymen Direct Unloading of Ordnance for Parks

Veteran artillerymen from the American Legion and Battery A, 105th Field Artillery, under charge of Major Frank H. Hume and Captain Calvin Selfridge supervised the unloading and placing of two howitzers secured for Lima parks by Congressman John L. Cable. The big rifles arrived from Camp Jackson, South Carolina, Tuesday.

An offer to assist in the work was made by the two officers. City workmen performed the labor, their efforts being directed by the cannonners.

One rifle, complete with calisson, will be placed in Lincoln park and the other in Faurot park. The pieces of ordnance are Model 1918 guns, a type discarded by the war department at the beginning of the war.

Freight on the cannon amounted to $115. Manager Bingham said. Originally it was planned to obtain the guns from Rock Island, Illinois, arsenal, at a much less expense.

CLOSING DOWN OF MINES BEGINS

Many Large Operations in Ohio Are Suspended

ALL TO QUIT BY SATURDAY

Operators and Workers Meet at Chicago Tomorrow

COLUMBUS — (United Press) — Coal mines in southern Ohio began to close down today in preparation for a nation-wide strike of bituminous miners April 1.

Four large operations in the Hocking Valley field stopped early today, and will not reopen until the controversy is ended, mine owners announced. Other mines will be shut down this week, they said.

The Sunday Creek Coal Company announced that its mine Number ten, near Glouster, had suspended operation and in Perry-co the Gosline and Keystone mines Number 3 and 6 were idle.

The stripping operations of the three Perry-co mines normally produce 200 cars of coal a day.

Operators declared they were anxious to have all of their mines closed before Saturday so as to be ready for the threatened strike.

Preparations for the strike in southern Ohio were few. The men have worked but a few days during the year and a strike will change their status but little. Relief workers already are busy thru out the fields.

MEET TOMORROW

CHICAGO — (United Press) — A conference between coal operators and union operatives to be held here tomorrow may serve as the "opener" of negotiations for a truce to prevent the threatened mine war April 1, it was viewed here today.

Preparations were under way for the meeting between Frank Farrington, head of the Illinois union miners, and operators.

Farrington, in accord with an agreement made with mine owners, suggested the date of the conference. The operators immediately accepted the proposal of the union chief.

It was not expected in mine circles here that peace would come directly out of the conference, but it was believed peace feelers would be thrown out which may result in wage negotiations of a wider scope before April 1.

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — After a week of preliminary skirmishing, the miners and operators' sub-committee on wage negotiations was prepared today to attack the chief points at issue—the demand of the unions for a twenty per cent wage increase and a raise of $1 per shift for day workers.

Upon the operators' rejection of the demands, with a third stipulating that the check-off system be established in all colonies, depends the early settlement of the strike set for April 1, it is the feeling at union headquarters here.

Both sides are agreed that the future of the bituminous and anthracite industries will depend largely upon the basis of settlement of these three demands. It is freely predicted that operators of bituminous mines will make no move to settle the strike which also will close their mines April 1 until a wage scale is fixed for the anthracite industry.

Neither side looks for an easy victory in the present conference. The miners with the knowledge that every anthracite colliery in the United States is unionized and will cease production on the date fixed, assert their men are "willing to go on a long vacation." Thus they say, they can take their time to thrash out the whole situation in the anthracite industry as it affects union labor.

ROAD LETTING SCHEDULED FOR TOMORROW CANCELLED

COLUMBUS — Owing to a defect in advertising the road letting scheduled for Wednesday which involved the paying of approximately 10,575 miles of roadway in four counties, and failure of commissioners in three of the counties to sign final resolutions certifying that the counties have the necessary funds with which to finance the project, the entire letting was cancelled by the state highway department. Other legal trouble, it was said, also led to the cancellation.

However, state engineers averred, the projects will be up for letting again within several weeks. The letting involved having nearly five miles of the Cleveland-Burton road, Geauga county; a small portion of the Findlay-Bowling Green road; Hancock county; approximately 2,057 miles of the Marion-Marysville road, Marion county and 4,910 miles of the Zanesville Dresden road, Muskingum county.

LONGS FOR SENTENCE IN JAIL. FRANK BARBER HAS WISH FULFILLED

Frank Barber, 35, who is said to have longed for a sentence in an Ohio institution, was accommodated by Judge J. H. Hamilton, Tuesday. Barber was sentenced to the county jail for a year and ordered to pay $10 and costs, for non-support of his child.

Recently, Barber prosecuted an action for divorce against his wife in common pleas court. Judge Becker refused a decree to either. Barber told county officials he wanted to be locked up, sent to jail, or committed to the state hospital for the insane. Judge Hamilton said while Barber is a prisoner in the jail he will observe him closely to ascertain his physical condition and state of mind.

TEX RICKARD CASE NEARS CLOSE

Expected to Reach the Jury Late Today

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Evidence in the Rickard rape trial was all in at noon today. Supreme Justice Wasservogel told the jury he hoped to give them the case late today after both sides had summed up. The state in its efforts to prove that Tex Rickard had assaulted 15-year-old Sarah Schoenfeld, called only one witness in rebuttal, Detective McGinn who arrested the sport promoter last January. The defense took several exceptions.

The sport promoter this morning admitted that he was so little acquainted with football that he did not know the number of players on a team.

The first touch of levity that has marked the trial came while the defendant was being cross-examined regarding his alibi that he was at the Dartmouth-Pennsylvania football game at the Polo grounds on November 12, at the time when he was supposed to have met Sarah Schoenfeld. Rickard testified that the Dartmouth-Pennsylvania encounter was the first and only game of football he had ever seen and that he went to the Polo grounds only to get the air.

Asked how the eleven lined up, he answered that they just "scattered around."

"Did you see any kickoff?" asked Assistant District Attorney Pecora.

"What kind of a kickoff?" "Asked to describe plays he had witnessed, he said he had seen every one trying to take the ball away from the man who was running with it. He admitted later he didn't know this was a violation of the rules. He added that the crowd seemed crazy about some run that they were talking about.

KIWANISANS ASSEMBLE HERE FOR INTER-CITY MEETING AND DINNER

More than 230 Kiwanians reached Lima during the morning and afternoon, Tuesday. Nine clubs are represented. Lunch was served the visitors at the Elks' Home at noon. Lima and Toledo bowling teams competed on the Elks' alleys during the afternoon.

BECOMES PASTOR ON APRIL 5

Rev. W. A. Tobin to Take Charge of Toledo Church

After nearly ten years in Lima, Rev. William A. Tobin, assistant pastor of St. Rose Catholic church, will assume his new duties as pastor of St. Thomas Aquinas church, East Side, Toledo, on Wednesday, April 5.

Official notification of his appointment to the Toledo pastorate has been received here by Rev. Tobin. The change was ordered by Bishop Samuel Stritch.

He will succeed the Rev. F. J. Keyes, who founded the parish of St. Thomas Aquinas. The church is located near Navarre park.

Rev. Tobin was born in Toledo and has several sisters and a brother residing there. He was educated at St. John's university in Toledo and completed his education at St. Bernard's university, Rochester, N. Y., from which institution he was graduated. He was ordained to the priesthood in 1910.

He served as assistant rector of St. Anne's church, Toledo, for a few weeks, after which he was transferred to St. Augustine's church, Cleveland, where he was assistant pastor two years before coming to Lima.

The Toledo appointment will give him his first pastorate.

Rev. Tobin has been active in the civic and church life of Lima. He was in charge of building plans of St. Rita's hospital and supervised the work of construction upon that institution.

He conceived the idea and carried to successful fulfillment the Knights of Columbus recreational center, W. Northst.

Successor to the Rev. Father Tobin has not yet been named.

FUND EFFORT IS TAKING FORM

Forces Plan Financial Aid For Service Bureau

Efforts were made Tuesday to line up organizations in Lima which have cooperated to date in the effort to be launched to clear the obligations contracted by the Social Service bureau in relief work during the winter.

When the call was sent out a week ago, many organizations found it impossible to send representatives to the meeting Friday night on such short notice.

It is planned to have them represented at Wednesday night's session. Illness of Mrs. Irene Mills Jackson will not halt the movement to finance the bureau, it was stated Tuesday. Mrs. Jackson was unable to be at her office either Monday or Tuesday.

Rotary club swung into the drive wholeheartedly when the organization voted to back any plans that may be made by the committee. Other organizations are expected to follow Rotary's lead.

Added examples of destitution were made public by the bureau Tuesday.

The father of a family of five, idle one year. Child recently died and the mother taken to a hospital shortly after. A home, representing life savings, may be sold under the hammer.

A young mother with two little ones. Deserted by her husband. Is unable to secure work and is living with parents who have four other children.

A father, idle all winter, has four young children and a married daughter approaching maternity. Discouraged by failure to procure work, the husband has forced the father to institute proceedings for non-support.

A widow is attempting to care for an invalid daughter and crippled son. A married daughter, mother of two, is living with her. The husband is in prison. Another daughter, husband and baby, are living with them. None of them have work.

RAIN FORECAST; MAYBE MORE SNOW

Lookit, who's here!

We have with us, dear friends, a prediction of possible snow on Wednesday. No less a personage than the weatherman asserts there is such a possibility. Rain and much colder to night.

Wednesday, cloudy and colder, probably rain or snow flurries. More likely in the east than in the west portions of Ohio. There's some solace in that.

The worst weather pessimist was probably ready to admit there was little or no danger of further cold and snow, but the prediction of the current day has upset the dope. Rain as a deterrent to spring activities in March, but when it comes to snow—well, it's too much.

BAR ASSOCIATION WILL HONOR JUDGE MARSHALL OF OHIO SUPREME COURT

Many acceptances are being received for the dinner of the Allen County Bar association, to be held Thursday at 6:30 p. m. at the Lima club.

Carrington T. Marshall, Columbus, chief justice of the Ohio supreme court, will be the principal speaker. His subject will be "Good Citizenship."

Because of the prominence of the speaker in bar circles, invitations were extended to include judges of near-by counties. About 60 persons are expected to be present.

Judge Marshall is on route to Columbus Grove, where he and his wife, formerly Miss Dora Poltz, will visit with her father, Daniel M. Poltz. Marshall will return here Thursday evening for the dinner.

DOUBLE LIABILITY IS UPHELD

Supreme Court Passes on Bank Stockholders Contention

BIGAMY SENTENCE STANDS

Other Cases Disposed of by State Tribunal

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press) — Double liability of stockholders in state banks was upheld today by the state supreme court when it denied a writ of mandamus to E. T. Allen and others, stockholders in the Old German-American Commercial and Savings Bank of Cincinnati to compel the state bank superintendent to levy against stockholders in proportion to amount of stock held by them in settling the bank's claims.

The stockholders contended that, inasmuch as their stock had been acquired prior to 1913, when the double liability law was enacted, they were exempt from its provisions. MUST SERVE SENTENCE

Thomas R. Clemens, alias Hale, Cleveland, must serve one to seven years for bigamy, supreme court decided today. He married Nellie F. Carlisle July 26, 1918, and later married Maud Mightwein. He claimed his first marriage was of no effect because he was a minor and had not obtained his parents' consent.

CHILD AWARD

By the decision of the supreme court today in the case of George S. Addams, judge of the Cuyahoga county insolvency court against the state of Ohio on relation of Oliver S. Hubbell, custody of a minor child is given for a period of 10 weeks annually to a person living outside the jurisdiction of the court, establishing a precedent in divorce and marital settlement instances.

The suit arose following the divorce of Frank and Eva J. Hubbell, Cleveland, and award of custody of a minor daughter to the husband. The probate court appointed the husband's father guardian of the child at a later period, upon which Mrs. Hubbell obtained a custody decree giving her mother custody of the daughter for 10 weeks annually. The grandfather-guardian brought prohibition proceedings against Judge Addams, winning in the lower courts but now losing it in the decision of the supreme court. The maternal grandmother of the child lives in New Orleans.

DEMAND IS MADE FOR SEWERS

Fire Menace Exists, South Side Citizens Say

PAVING PETITIONS RECEIVED

Commission Approves $194,000 Water Works Bonds

That the entire section of the city south of Fourth-st is almost without protection, because of frightful condition of the streets, was the declaration made by W. G. Tomlinson, who headed a delegation of 21 property owners, which called on the city commission Monday night to enter a protest.

No sewers are south of Fourth-st and there is no drainage. Improvements in that section of the city are halted by this condition; property holders are selling out when they can and are moving away, Tomlinson asserted.

The spokesman declared that if a fire broke out, the entire section might be destroyed. The streets are so soft fire trucks could not plow thru, it is stated.

"It is hard work," Tomlinson told the commissioners, "for a man with rubber boots to cross some of the streets."

Relief was promised the district, 10 years ago, but has been tardy, was pointed out.

City Engineer Vaughn Miller said he only way to remedy the matter is to build the Halsey-st sewer, at a cost of $600,000 to $700,000.

Commissioner Harley declared that some temporary relief should be afforded until the large sewer is constructed.

Manager Bingham and Miller were instructed to meet with property owners soon and discuss the matter further.

AVING IS SOUGHT

Two petitions from residents of Miller-st, High-st to North-st, and Hazel-st from Charles-st to Jamez-st, asking for paving, were referred to the city manager, after Commissioner Jones had insisted the Halsey-st sewer should be extended to intersect Delphos-st.

For a second time an ordinance ordering the city manager to proceed with paving Kenilworth-st from Alameda-st to north city limits, was filed.

A resolution endorsing a bill to establish a federal court in Lima was passed and a copy ordered sent to congressman John L. Cable.

An issue of $194,000 worth of water works bonds was approved, the finance being amended by lowering interest rate to five per cent.

Legislation authorizing the construction of sewers in Nixon, Wendell and Lakewood-av was passed.

Advisability of an order for the removal of curb gas tanks was discussed.

THE FLOWER GARDEN

ARTICLE NO. 8

The Back Yard At Luther Burbank's Home.

By LUTHER BURBANK

World's Greatest Scientific Agriculturist

Sweet peas and zinnias are likely to give the best results to the beginner in his flower garden.

Zinnias blossom all summer long and the never-fading color of a wide range of beautiful colors, as well as contrasting beauty of form. For 15 cents invested in seeds can be obtained as generous floral results as would come from $25 spent on dahlias roots.

Zinnias form a very inexpensive and almost certain garden product. A giant variety can now be raised, measuring from 4 to 6 inches across each blossom and insuring a gorgeous, long lasting flower bed.

Sweet peas will grow almost anywhere. They thrive even in the shade. But they should be planted early, although frequently they thrive even after late planting. Also they grow rapidly and blossom over a long period, especially if the flowers are quickly gathered and the plants not allowed to go to seed.

Marigolds and poppies can next be placed upon the beginner's list. Marigolds are a hardy annual and can be depended upon almost anywhere.

Poppies should be sown early and have an early yield. One cannot be too careful in thinly distributing the seed. Most everyone sprinkles poppy seed ten times too liberally, and congestion generally results.

Poppies should be grown a foot apart to get the best color and quantity. Any number of fine poppy varieties can now be secured and a most interesting flower bed group arranged if care is given to selection.

But MOST IMPORTANT is the early sowing, for poppies thrive even when the seed is sown on the snow or in frozen ground.

Burbank's advice on more delicate flowers tomorrow.

They are NEW and decidedly popular, the black patent leather, one, two and three strap pumps.

While the light brown calf skin oxfords are following a close second in popularity.

POOLING OF CROPS LEGALIZED

Made Lawful by Action of Kentucky Legislature

FARMERS NOW ORGANIZING

State Anti-Trust Laws Repealed by Assembly

FRANKFORT, Ky. — (Associated Press) — Repeal of the Kentucky anti-trust laws and legalizing of pooling of farm crops in the state featured the session of the 1922 general assembly which has just ended here. The Bingham Cooperative Marketing act probably was the most important measure passed and was passed in the record-breaking time (for Kentucky) of six legislative days.

The Bingham act was introduced on the first day of the session in order to permit incorporation in the state of the Bingham Tobacco Growers' Association, which has since got into active operation and which has marketed half of the 1921 crop without resort to the old method of auctioning the crop. It was signed by Governor Morrow immediately after its passage.

Under this law 55,000 Kentucky farmers have organized to pool this one type of tobacco and the Western Kentucky Farmers are now organizing to sell other types.

DRASTIC MEASURE

The law is so drastic that anyone who tries to get a farmer to break his contract, which runs five years, is made liable to prosecution for a misdemeanor as well as being financially liable.

Formation of two new normal schools to aid in training teachers for the schools of the state also was provided by the assembly. The schools were provided in accordance with the recommendations of the Education Survey Commission which was appointed in 1920. Thirty thousand dollars was appropriated for each of the schools to be available when the successful bidders shall have contributed $10,000 in cash, land or buildings for the plants of the schools.

Another educational measure that has caused considerable comment was a bill providing $50,000 a year for summer training schools for teachers.

CASES ARE SETTLED; JURY IS DISCHARGED

The petit jury has been discharged in common pleas court until Friday, when it will again be called to hear a case.

Settlement of all cases set for trial this week has been made out of court and the case dismissed.

GIRLS SENTENCED TO READ FAIRY TALES TO END BOHEMIAN FANCIES

MISS LILLIAN COLLIER

(BY ROY GIBBONS)
CHICAGO — Fairy tales and Bohemianism are battling here for supremacy.

Upon the outcome depends whether or not Chicago is to have a Quarter Latin of its own patterned after Gotham's Greenwich Village.

Miss Lillian Collier and Miss Virginia Harrison have been sentenced by Judge Jacobs to read the fairy tales attentively.

The jurist's reason in doing so was because he hoped thereby to cure the two young women of their Bohemian tendencies.

DENY "PETTING PARTIES"
Lillian and Virginia are joint proprietors of the "Wind Blew Inn" Chicago's first attempt to express its Bohemian ideals.

Police visited the place several times and complained because they saw candles burning dimly in far distant corners and grotesque black cats stalking about the barren floors.

In addition they also alleged numerous "petting parties" were carried on. All of which the girls denied.

"We are merely trying to live life as we see it," both said when haled before Judge Jacobs.

"Have either of you ever read 'Little Women,' 'Flaxie Frizzle' or Hans Christian Andersen's tales?" the judge asked.

Lillian and Virginia both shook their heads.

"But we read bed-time stories in the papers," replied Lillian.

SENTENCED TO FAIRY TALES
"Well, that's good," said the court.

"All that's the matter is that you have a false value of things of life in general."

"Start on the fairy tale numbers right away."

Surrounded by 27 Bohemian devotes, the two champions of the coming second city Greenwich Village strode homeward.

"But we stopped in at the library and got the books Judge Jacobs recommended," said Virginia.

"We're reading them as commanded under our sentence. And if influence of the fairy tales shows us that our viewpoint of life is wrong then we'll stop Chicago's Bohemia."

RUBBER INDUSTRY COMES BACK

Akron Concerns Show Big Increase in Production

AKRON. — (United Press) — The rubber industry, a barometer of the nation's prosperity has "come back," officials of the biggest tire manufacturing company, declared today.

The war-time boom city, the first to feel the depression pinch, now indicates the country's return to prosperity days, business officials here told the United Press.

The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, considered on the financial rocks last summer, in an annual report just announced shows a production of 22,000 tires daily and a net earning of nearly $1,900,000 a month.

"Increased automobile production, increased expenditures by automobile users and increased income to make possible that expenditure, is indicated," E. G. Wilmer, president of Goodyear, declared. "The present business has far surpassed that of a year ago."

Views of other officials in the industry were:

"There will be no further wholesale layoffs for Akron rubber workers," W. F. O'Neil, general manager of General Tire and Rubber Company, said.

"We have paid for labor, since taking over the Portage Rubber Company's idle plant, $20,000 and now employ 400 men. We have opened 15 branches," according to the Selberling Rubber Company, organized 90 days ago by men ousted from control of the Goodyear Company.

"Sales are increasing," Firestone Tire and Rubber Company reported.

Miller Rubber Company and B. F. Goodyear reported increased sales.

In addition, bank clearings for the last few weeks have shown consistent increases over the week before. They are still below the similar period in 1920. Employment offices reported 10,000 employed part time or jobless while last fall 35,000 were in this class.

BANK RESERVES AT NEW HIGH

List of Business Developments is Pointed Out

RAILWAY TRAFFIC GROWING

Building Activity is Declared Very Pronounced

(By B. C. FORBES)

NEW YORK — (Special) — The first day of spring saw both stock and bond prices at a new high average price for the year. Stocks, indeed, touched the highest point since the outbreak of war.

The last week has also brought more than ordinary number of other encouraging developments, indicative of unmistakable, the moderate, improvement in business conditions.

Washington reports appreciable lessening of unemployment this month.

Railway traffic is increasing very noticeably. Index numbers all agree that the price trend lately has been slowly upwards.

Building activity is becoming very pronounced and all indications point to still greater expansion within the next few months.

Not only are certain steel products being stiffened in price, but new business is now coming in equal to 65 per cent of the full capacity of the mills, representing the doubling of orders within the last few months.

The number of cotton spindles in operation last month showed a mild increase, although the New England strike of mill operatives has since seriously interfered with production.

"Business is gradually approaching its normal state," reports the Department of Commerce. It adds that in those industries "which constitute the backbone of American business," the improvement, as compared with a few months ago, has been "very marked."

Reports from agricultural states are quite encouraging.

Bank reserves have again reached a new maximum, and the latest weekly Reserve banks statement reveals that remarkable progress has been made in easing conditions where the "frozen credits" strain was greatest.

Rates for time money and mercantile paper have declined, a fact of much greater importance than fluctuations in call money, in Wall street.

The principal foreign exchange rates compare well with those of a week ago, a fresh break in German marks to the lowest point ever recorded, is occasioning no surprise in well-informed circles, as it has long been foreseen that Germany's whole financial policy could lead only to trouble until a distinctly better course was adopted either voluntarily or thru outside pressure.

The resumption here of unrestricted paying out of gold and gold certificates has been effected without causing the slightest ripple, the demand for gold or gold certificates in preference to other forms of currency being negligible.

So long as securities display buoyancy, the financial community is not easily alarmed over other events or threatened happenings.

Had we been in the midst of a falling stock market, the overwhelming vote in the House for the bonus bill would unquestionably have started a stampede of selling. It actually had little or no apparent influence.

The senate's ratification of the four power treaty, regarded in financial circles as "good news," was also accepted very calmly.

The truth is that the betterment in security prices has been based, not on any extraneous incidents, but almost wholly on the growing conviction that American industry and business are gradually regaining stability, solidity, and activity, and that there is justification for believing that the gradual improvement will be maintained and become at least a little more marked as the year advances. This faith is entertained despite unfavorable outcroppings scored and despite a few disliked happenings at home.

Had the betterment in business and in the investment markets been less solidly based, we would probably have been experiencing "outbursts of unsettlement at this time. Not only would the bonus action at Washington have caused disturbance, but the threatened coal strike and the support pledged the strikers by the railway unions would undoubtedly have unsettled things more or less acutely.

Yet, although the date set for the coal strike is only a few days off, the security markets and the business world are moving along absolutely calmly and, apparently, indifferent.

Of course, it should be explained that in the highest financial business circles the almost universal opinion is that the strikers will find themselves waging a hopeless fight, with public sentiment strongly favoring action calculated to bring down coal prices. Moreover, it is well known that reserve supplies of coal are very large. Also non-union mines are counted upon to prevent any coal famine even should the strike prove protracted.

Some people, including certain prominent bankers, are still pessimistic. They agree that recent favorable developments will turn out to have been merely "a flash in the pan." I cannot share that view, any more than I can become excited over alarmist predictions of an impending orgy of price inflation. I believe we will have sense enough to earn genuine improvement without indulging in shortsighted recklessness.

SPENCERVILLE WOMAN DIES AT STATE HOSPITAL

Judge J. H. Hamilton, of Allen county, has been informed of the death of Mrs. Margaret Russell, of Spencer, Va., at the Toledo state hospital.

Mrs. Russell was committed to that institution last May. Funeral services for Mrs. Russell were held in Spencer, Va., Tuesday. Mrs. Thomas Collins, of Spencer, Va., is a daughter.

LIMA WIRELESS TO DIRECT MOVEMENT OF TRAINS ON D. T. & I.

Henry Ford, multi-millionaire automobile manufacturer and bidder for the water power development project at Muscle Shoals, Alabama, is a keen radio enthusiast.

He has already begun carrying into effect his plan of directing operation of trains on the D. T. & I. railroad by wireless.

Radio stations have been established at Dearborn, Mich., where general headquarters are located; Flat Rock and Springfield, according to B. H. Logan, D. T. & I. agent in Lima.

It is believed that radio stations will soon replace telegraph as a means of dispatching trains.

The picture shows Ford (in the foreground) listening to a wireless message from Russia, at the big radio station in Atlanta.

"I am greatly interested," Ford said. "My trains will soon be operated by wireless."

It is expected that Lima will be among the first when other radio outfits are installed.

REFORM PLANNED

State Central Offices to be Opened by Postmaster General

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — The postoffice department is rapidly completing plans for a decentralization of much of the routine work of the department under a system of state central offices which postal officials believe will greatly increase the efficiency of the service and at the same time effect an important saving in its cost.

In announcing the cost and nature of the plans today, Postmaster General Work said he believed they would make "one of the most important reforms in the service in several generations, if not in its entire history."

Details of policy, adjustments and service which have heretofore been thrown upon the department in Washington for final disposition, entailing delay and unnecessary expense in administration, will under the new plan, the postmaster general said, be settled by a central office designated to exercise that authority for each state. Such offices already have been designated in several states, he said, and are relieving the department here of money order disputes, complaints and a multitude of other details.

Ultimately the thousands of complaints and recommendations now handled by a large body of workers here will be disposed of by the office designated for each state.

The inspecting officer stated that the Lima "Doughboys" could be relied along with any organization in the state that he had seen during his tour. He is visiting units of the 148th Infantry.

Major Frank H. Hume and Captain Oscar Dupes assisted in the inspection of the company.

"Return of American troops from Germany is an error," Land asserted. "Germany eventually must pay for their maintenance. Moreover, the troops themselves are well satisfied to remain overseas. There have been no court martials among troops on the Rhine for nearly a year."

MOTHER ILL, MISS TRUMBO TO GIVE UP WELFARE WORK

Mrs. E. Trumbo, mother of Miss Eunice B. Trumbo, Allen county welfare worker, is improved, at her home in Columbus Grove. Mrs. Trumbo suffered a stroke of paralysis.

Miss Trumbo is arranging to co-located work begun in connection with the Child Welfare association and return to her home in the Putnam-on town, to remain with L. F. mother until she recovers.

WOMEN, MEN IN CONTEST IN SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK

COLUMBUS GROVE — Members of the Sunday School class of the Presbyterian church, taught by Miss Eunice Trumbo, have made such progress upon the more than 30 points gained upon them by the Men's class that the number the men are now ahead is only one, in percent of attendance.

Losers must extend a dinner to the winners. The contest will close Easter.

TRUCK ATTACHED ON CLAIM FOR INSURANCE PREMIUM

Attachment proceedings begun in the court William H. Guyton, justice of the peace, by the Thomas A. Collins insurance agency, Fairport, against C. C. Schirmer, Flinders, have been certified to common pleas court.

The insurance agency claimed a truck owned by Schirmer, claiming the amount of $208.31 is due as insurance premiums on property. C. A. Plock, F. H. Kerr and D. A. Staples who uppeared the truck, fixed its value at $200.

BIDS TO BE RECEIVED ON TWO TYPES OF DISPOSAL PLANT FOR CITY SEWAGE

When bids are received on Lima's proposed sewage disposal plant June 1, they will be submitted on both the sprinkler-filter type and the oxidation system, Manager Clarence Bingham said Tuesday.

Conference called for Friday night will not settle the question, Bingham declared.

Bingham and the commission will meet with G. W. Fuller, representing Fuller & McChesney; J. K. Gelsey and W. H. Dutton, engineer of the state board of health.

Dutton wired Manager Bingham he will arrive here Friday noon or the conference.

Saturday bidding on the sewers and pumping station will proceed as planned and the awards will be made on or after April 15, Bingham said.

REAPS FORTUNE FROM FLOWERS

MEMPHIS — V. E. Buchignani decided his land was too valuable to plant in cotton from which he realized from $20. to $300 an acre.

So he plowed up his cotton and planted peonies and dahlias in its place.

Now he is getting from $5000 to $7000 an acre from his flower crop.

The big tract planted in peonies is his greatest revenue producer, as there is as great a demand in the fall for his surplus peony roots as there is in the summer.

For the thousands of blooms he harvests each morning.

This year his entire early crop of blooms will be shipped to New York and Chicago.

CONTRAST OVER ROUTE OF HARDING HIGHWAY THRU DELPHOS HAS DEVELOPED

What is the main street in Delphos? Upon the determination of the question will hinge the route of the Harding Highway thru the county line.

Farmers and township trustees insist that Pierce-st is the principal thoroughfare in Delphos and a continuation of the county road from the east.

Residents of the town, however, are firmly entrenched in their position that Main-st is the proper route. County historians are being consulted freely by both factions. Allen county commissioners are not taking sides.

It is up to the rival factions to show proof, they say.

Whichever route is chosen will be paved, as a part of the state aid program for 1921.

Both factions have presented their views to the commissioners. Supervisor J. W. and J. Kennard Johnson, secretary of the Harding Highway association.

When bids are received on Lima's proposed sewage disposal plant June 1, they will be submitted on both the sprinkler-filter type and the oxidation system, Manager Clarence Bingham said Tuesday.

Conference called for Friday night will not settle the question, Bingham declared.

Bingham and the commission will meet with G. W. Fuller, representing Fuller & McChesney; J. K. Gelsey and W. H. Dutton, engineer of the state board of health.

Dutton wired Manager Bingham he will arrive here Friday noon or the conference.

Saturday bidding on the sewers and pumping station will proceed as planned and the awards will be made on or after April 15, Bingham said.

HEARING POSTPONED

The case of Arthur Fobbe, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a young girl, which was scheduled for hearing in juvenile court Tuesday, has been postponed until Wednesday morning.

CITY OFFICIAL IS FINED DOLLAR

Engineer Miller Traffic Violator — City to Pay

City Engineer Vaughn C. Miller was ordered into criminal court Tuesday, along with a score of others, charged with parking their cars without lights burning Monday night.

It was a city-owned car that caused Miller's downfall. Manager Bingham ruled Tuesday that under the circumstances the city is responsible and will stand the $1 assessed by Judge Emmett C. Jackson.

It had not been determined Tuesday what fund the dollar will be paid from, but at all events the money will come back into the treasury, thru the court.

Miller and Manager Bingham, it is later, were riding late Monday night, spotting locations for arc lamps.

Miller conveyed the city manager to the Barr Hotel. On account of the late hour, he drove the car to his home, 233 Jameson-av., instead of placing it in the city garage near the market house.

The street is torn up and impassable near his home, Miller says. Therefore he left the machine near an arc light some distance away on Jameson-av.

Acting Captain Willis Kipker and Officer Ray Blair, touring the city late at night for traffic violators, tagged the city "driver" along with a score of others.

Judge Jackson suspended fines of several motorists whose machines were tagged in the same vicinity, but ordered Miller's fine paid.

PAYING OLD BILLS

Heritage of Previous Administration for City Commission

Lima is still paying bills contracted during 1921 and of which no one had knowledge until they started to pour in.

They are still coming in, according to H. N. Osgood, purchasing agent, and the total paid since the first of the year amounts to approximately $9,000, he says.

Osgood says the city has no way of telling how much is still outstanding on 1921.

"We have had a few old bills brought in he declared. "That when checked were found to have been paid."

All bills are being checked over by Auditor Evan O. Sellers and department heads, to avoid duplication. "I am tempted to set a date," said Osgood, "and refuse to pay back 1921 bills that are not in at the expiration of the time fixed."

No appropriation for meeting back bills was made when the commission made up the 1922 budget.

KENTON FIRM AWARDED CONTRACT FOR PAVING OF THE ELIDA ROAD

Contract for paving Elida road, from the Lima city limits to the east limits of Elida village, has been awarded to McArthur & Company, of Kenton, by the state highway department.

The firm was low bidder on asphalt macadam material at the sale of the road held March 20. The bids are $84,940.31 for macadam with an oil asphalt treatment and penetration and $34,354.61 for the same road with lake asphalt top.

Low bids on other material, which cost approximately $25,000 more than the type adopted, were rejected. The materials specified are asphaltic concrete and Kentucky rock asphalt.

SERIES OF THEFTS IS REPORTED TO POLICE

A series of thefts and near-thefts, big and small, was reported to police Tuesday, the most serious of which was the firing of the Wires-Knight auto belonging to F. H. Bentz, No. 2 Jean Court.

I. N. Armstrong, 1143 Ritchie-av., told officers somebody attempted to gain entrance to his home Monday night by climbing thru a porch window, but failed.

Stanley Herr, 1503 S. Metcalf, said two men took a milk bottle from his front porch containing $1.80 in small change.

E. W. Mummaugh, 1063 E. Market-st., reported a cast iron guide was taken from his premises Tuesday.

DR. HULBERT TO ADDRESS MASS MEETING, SUNDAY

Dr. Homer B. Hulbert, former envoy of the emperor of Korea to the United States, and editor of the Korean Review, the only English magazine in Korea, will speak on the theme, "When East Meets West," at a mass meeting at the Market Street Presbyterian church, Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

The event is arranged under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Hulbert is recognized as an authority on conditions in the Orient. For 20 years he was in the service of Korea and crossed Siberia five times.

FINDLAY MAN LOSES HIS INSURANCE SUIT

COLUMBUS — George H. Phelps, Findlay, lost his suit to compel B. W. Gearhart, state insurance superintendent, to revoke all licenses issued by his department to insure companies indemnifying or insuring physicians against loss occasioned by professional negligence, when the supreme court today refused to grant the writ of mandamus asked for by his petition.

Phelps contended, in his suit, that the companies were writing a form of insurance that was against public policy and against the public interests.

ST. MARYS — J. R. Munder of this city, recently appointed by deputy United States marshal to George H. Stauffer, of Ottawa, at a salary of $120 a month has resigned to take a position of traveling salesman.

JUDGE JACKSON AWAITS ACTION BY COMMISSION IN APPOINTING A CLERK

Judge Emmett J. Jackson, of criminal court, wants a clerk. For three months he has been wrestling with judicial processes alone and unaided and is beginning to feel that if aid doesn't come soon the thousand and one details of record work will get the best of him.

Nothing has been heard by him from the city commission as to what they propose to do in the matter of providing him with a clerk, he has not had one since the first of January, when the commission form of government became effective and Miss Minnie Holdren was transferred to Manager Bingham's office.

The judge has not accepted the salary increase from $1,500 to $2,100, the stipulation having been that $600 be used to pay the salary of a clerk. He turned the proposition down because it is illegal, he asserts. There must be a definite provision made by the commission for a clerk, he says.

Jackson declares he constantly helps himself behind in his work. Preparation of affidavits on the typewriter is his greatest bugbear. Disposition of cases has become sluggish as a result.

SUBSTITUTES FOR PLATINUM FOUND

Discovery Made by Government Scientists

WHITE GOLD IS THE BEST

Not Attacked by Nitric Acid, the Experts Say

WASHINGTON (Associated Press) — Government scientists after extensive investigations have found what they declare to be satisfactory substitutes for platinum for various purposes, according to an announcement by the United States Bureau of Mines. In chemical requirements and for use in high-duty electrical contacts, however, the announcement said, no substitute for platinum has ever been discovered.

One of the most promising substitutes was said by the experts to be "white gold" which is an alloy of gold and one of the platinum metals. This closely resembles platinum, it was said, and is not attacked by nitric acid. "White gold" is used extensively in certain classes of jewelry but does not replace platinum in the manufacture of high class jewelry, it was pointed out.

Experts of the Bureau of Mines said that owing to its resistance to the action of acids and most chemical agents, even at high temperature, and to its high melting point, platinum has been used extensively for the manufacture of crucibles, basins, foils and wire and for chemical laboratory work. Most of the metal produced in the United States is said to be recovered as a secondary mineral from placer operations and from the electrolytic refining of gold bullion and blister content.

From time to time, the bureau said, the beach sands of Oregon and Northern California had been exploited by promoters on the basis of the gold and platinum content.

What is Climalene?

Climalene is a water softener. Dissolves instantly in hot or cold water. Combines with and neutralizes mineral salts which cause "hardness." Makes hard water soft as rain water. Harmless to tender skin or most delicate fabric.

Mothers—You should carefully guard your daughter's health. Advise her of the danger which comes from standing around with cold or wet feet, from lifting heavy articles, or overworking. Do not let her overstudy.

If she complains of headache, pains in back or lower limbs, or if you notice a slowness of thought, nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter, give her careful attention.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for your daughter; to take, as it is especially adapted to relieve just such symptoms. Remember it contains nothing that can injure and can be taken in safety.

Necessity Knows No Law!

THE LOUD ACCLAIM OF SALES

We all have become worried over statements of comparative prices—of the loud acclaim of extreme "Mark Down" until terms like "Half Price" seem to have lost their meaning. Here you will find genuine "Mark Down" and the old time bargain restored to its original meaning. And we wish to emphasize that these reductions are solely because of the season and urgent need of money. There is not a merchant in the United States who could keep his doors open 60 days if he sold merchandise with the prices we are selling it and depended on the profits of his business to keep going. We want every man and young man who is in need of clothing, furnishings, hats and caps to understand that the savings offered by this sale are incomparable and are the result of extraordinary conditions. This is not a money-making sale. It's a big loser!

SOCIETY IS BLAMED

AT the door of present-day society is laid the blame for neglect of youth, by Dr. H. D. Kellogg, superintendent of the Mansfield reformatory. Society has failed, the supervisor of a community of restrained criminals out-cast from society, asserted before a meeting of Rotarians, high school boys, boy scouts and the mothers of the boys in Lima Monday.

Dr. Kellogg is in a position to know the causes of criminal inclination in youth, which asserts itself more strongly as time goes on and the young grow to maturity. The barrier between the average father and son is too wide for the ultimate good of the boy. Father and son should be chums, the speaker told his auditors.

"As the twig is bent, so grows the tree." How true the saying!

Neglect, lack of proper environment and encouragement; a bond of sympathy missing or denied, and—a large percentage of boys who are victims of such circumstances go wrong. More and better equipped playgrounds, a better understanding between fathers and sons, more interest by the parent in the things that absorb and direct the child in the right paths—these things are necessary.

The schools and the churches have a great work to do also in this connection. They are in the position of being first aid when home environment fails, or adding to the strength of the work even when home life is what it should be. There is no question but that education is the most effective crime deterrent.

The path of youth must be made straight and kept straight.

SWAT THE EARLY FLY

THE early bird catches the worm," is a favorite saying at most any season of the year. It might also be said with equal emphasis and adherence to truthfulness that "swatting a fly now means a million less later."

The breeding proclivities of the housefly is probably unequalled in the insect world, therefore it is good judgment and an assurance of decimating the fly population ultimately by millions in the simple act of killing a few hundreds now.

The fly swatter, tanglefoot paper and other devices for cutting down the ranks of the dangerous pest should find ready sale thus early, rather than later, when warm weather, fertile breeding places and the ability of the insect to multiply its kind results in great number where there are now few.

It is the first flies of spring that do the most damage, in assuring swarms later on. Get out the fly swatter now and practice up on killing them. Rid the house of them as rapidly as they appear. If persisted in, a daily attack will insure comparative freedom from the disease carrying, food infecting and baby menacing winged destroyer.

The fly thrives best in filth. His feet are covered with germs constantly and he has no hesitancy about walking about over food-stuffs, sticking his feet in baby's milk carrying disease infection everywhere.

Make it your business to kill the first fly you see and continue the practice every day.

UNCERTAINTY

TIMES have been like a sailing ship in a typhoon, with the masts torn away, the rudder crippled, the crew working frantically at the pumps to counteract leaks that have sprung in the hold.

The crew is weary, confused, no one seems to know where to turn, what to do next.

That explains widespread uncertainty—

So, into the grisly day. Picked up by a red touring boat hitting the owner said, on two. Must tell Ott Plummer about that prospect.

To the post, where pathetically pretentious stenographers were gathering the Boss' billets, and longing lingeringly over the envelopes that were not there. Note that the better dressed are rapidly casting the demode black into the discard, and donning the scarlet hose. Not so attractive, they may be to the sarcophagous mules of the town.

To the office, busted with the red ink figures of the auditor. His books since last June are as rugged as an Orphanus vampire. Thence came Fred Dorries, the Rotary Club's enervating entertainment committee. Would change the name of Main street from its stupid cognomen 'o Adelia Avenue or Bertina Boulevard. Or something of that sort, which would reflect its charm, cheerfulness and chastity. Suggested a first-page streamer to stir things. Are you in favor of it, neither am I.

In walked Roy Barnhart, the broker, flattering me with an offer of a noble referred stock—right at home and a good one—but far above my meagre bank balance. Roy also ventured some journalistic advice. Condoling in hectic, but polite language, any criticism of city affairs. He against the sleeping belief that shaking up the municipal dice has only prot out the same old ace, dirty deuce, and that sort of thing. Of the faith, too, in which I hope is all-truc, that we possess a future Gorgantuan government. And have banished for all time and a day, the gargoyle administrations of the past.

Out for a stroll, and atmosphere. Plenty of the latter, but filled with rancid wetness. Dawdled a moment with Don John, the energetic canned opera dealer.

Over to Wilson's for lunch. I invited myself to sit down with Read Dunlap, the banker, newly come from the Kentucky oil fields, inspecting promising gusters. Joe Cowan dropped in as we were hopen to a second out of apple pie, with cheese. Protesting, we permitted him to pay the bill. Waved greetings to George Vail, the steel-maker, but ye olden time playmate. We've chipped in on many a dozen cheese sandwiches for the Oak; or gone on co-educational bicycle parties to McBeth's park.

In the evening, home to the remains of the lamb of lamb, with tapoca pudding. And so to read Arnold Bennett's "Mr. Frohock," the unknown and unsung Britisher who won the war.

the epidemic of "Shall I do this, or shall I lose if I do so?"

The storm is dying down. Land is in sight. Soon to port for repairs, general overhauling, new coat of paint, new masts, new rudder, then out to sea for another trip, all hands singing.

It's a beautiful picture. Also, an inevitable development. No storm can last forever. With this one over, uncertainty will vanish, confidence be restored. It's returning now.

BANKRUPTCY

SOME British business men and politicians fear that Germany's bankruptcy may be near. In such case, they wonder, how would reparations be paid?

Suppose Germany did go bankrupt. What then?

After a trance-like confusion, Germany would go ahead growing crops and running factories. They'd pay their indemnity in goods. What's the difference? That's how they're paying now, by exports, having very little gold.

Keeping Germany at work is more important than her money system.

POEMS YOU WILL ENJOY

BY BERTON BRALEY

THE STAYER

I know I've got a purple eye,
I know I'm bruised and cut,
I know my nose is all awry,
I know I'm wabbling—but
Altho I'm pounded half to death
And crawling on the ground
Just give me time to get my breath
I'll try another round.

I'd like to lay me down and quit,
I'm shaky in the knees,
My arms are numb and cannot hit.
I gasp and choke and wheeze,
But still I say, as did Macbeth,
"Lay on, Macduff!"—and when
I've sort of got my second breath
I'll try my luck again!

I know I'm weary, listless, slow
And heavy-eyed and lame,
But here's a thought—for all I know
The other guy's the same;
So tho he seems to have me skinned
I'm not entirely downed,
If I can get my second wind
I'll try another round!

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to save $2, and you have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It's really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosen a dry, hoarse, or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

AVOID SPRING PNEUMONIA

(BY DR. R. F. BISHOP)
Careless dressing offers an open avenue for which the diseases of this season—colds, influenza and pneumonia—may attack you.

Use care in picking your clothing this spring.

Overclothing yourself renders the skin over sensitive, so that when it is subjected to sudden exposure it is unable to stand it and you "catch cold."

The popular theory is that clothing bestows heat to the body by keeping the cold out.

The fact is that the clothing is a sort of safety valve which regulates the amount of heat allowed to escape from the body.

Naturally, also, the clothes do defend the body to a certain extent against the external influences of wind and weather.

KEEPS HEAT INSIDE
Clothing, no matter of what material, possesses the power of retaining a layer of air kept warm by our bodies. This layer of air varies according to the fineness and closeness of the weave of material used.

Thick garments are warmer than thin garments of the same material merely because they retain in their meshes a greater quantity of heated air.

Loose clothing is warmer than tight clothing, so also with shoes and gloves. With loose clothing, shoes or gloves there is a larger layer of heated air between the skin and the material.

The circulation of the blood is freer, too.

PERMIT VENTILATION
The material of the clothing should be such as to allow free perspiration from the skin. We sweat in winter as well as summer, but the sweat is in the form of vapor and is invisible.

To help make the body strong only the minimum amount of clothing that will secure warmth should be worn. Woolens protect most, but they require the least exercise of the temperature-regulating apparatus of the body.

The wool becomes saturated with the perspiration, which it holds, to the disadvantage of the skin. Therefore, woolen clothing should be confined to outer garments as overcoats, designed especially for colder weather.

Fur coats make the skin oversensitive.

She could eat anything—without indigestion or sleeplessness

For a time she had been troubled with gas after her evening meal. The distress was most painful after eating potatoes or other starchy foods, of which she was very fond.

Then she started taking two cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast every night between her evening meal and bedtime. She poured about a half cup of boiling hot water over the yeast cakes, stirred them thoroughly, added a little cold water and drank.

She found she could eat anything and sleep splendidly afterward.

Thousands of men and women are finding that Fleischmann's Yeast corrects stomach and intestinal troubles. It promotes the flow of bile and pancreatic juice. Appetite is always kept normal and you are protected against indigestion.

Add 2 to 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast to your daily diet. You will find that your whole digestive system is greatly benefited. Be sure it's Fleischmann's Yeast—the familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label. Place a standing order with your grocer for Fleischmann's Yeast.

"TALKED WITH 23 DEAD PERSONS"

This is Claim Made by Sir Arthur Doyle

CONVINCED OF SPIRITUALISM

Sails April 1 to Spread His Gospel in U. S.

(BY MILTON BRONNER)
LONDON — (Special) — "After 30 years' investigating I am as convinced of the truth of spiritualism as I am of my own existence. I myself have experienced communication by direct voice with 23 deceased friends and relatives, including my mother and my son whom I lost in the war."

This is the statement of Arthur Conan Doyle, knighted novelist and creator of Sherlock Holmes, who is sailing for America to spread the gospel of spiritualism.

Sir Arthur sails April 1, accompanied by his wife and three young children. Lady Doyle assists her husband in talks to large crowds.

Sir Arthur will deliver his first lecture April 12 in New York. He expects to deliver about 11 others. Then he will take his family for a rest in the Adirondacks, sailing for home in June.

"Death is merely a wall between the people we call 'living' and those we call 'dead,'" says Doyle. "Spiritualism has pierced this wall. It is widening the gaps. After a while the wall will be down and these will be free communication between the 'living' and those who have passed."

DIFFERENT WORLD
"It will make this a different world. It will reinforce a religious except the purely materialist."

"It will diminish sin, because you would sin when the spirit of his beloved mother was at his side, communicating with him, showing him her grief."

"I began the study of spiritualism in 1886 and since then have read everything I could find on the subject, keeping an open mind, and experimenting with mediums wherever possible."

"I am absolutely certain of the possibility of communication with those who have passed. I have had such clear and definite evidence that I would consider myself insane if I did not accept it, and a moral coward if I did not proclaim it."

"My wife and I realized early in our marriage that the world urgently needed this message and that the only way to break thru the mixture of levity and stupidity, with which people had met the nearer approach of the spirit world, was to speak face to face with audiences and give them our own personal experiences."

"I have determined to devote the rest of our lives to that object, and I don't say we take no money for our doing, all profits being handed over to the cause."

"I have spoken to more than 200,000 people in Great Britain and have every reason to believe that I have convinced many materialists of the continuity of life and brought consolation to a great number of broken people who felt they had lost their dear ones forever."

WHITELY DIVORCE SUIT DISMISSED; COUPLE IS REPORTED REUNITED

The divorce suit of Juanita Whitely against Roland S. Whitely has been settled out of court and will be dismissed.

Whitely and his wife are residing together in Cleveland, it is stated. Mrs. Whitely filed her petition, asking for a divorce, last October, in which she made sensational allegations, charging that her husband associated with other women in Lima and naming a young girl, active in the social life of Columbus Grove, as one of the persons whom Whitely visited and upon whom he spent money.

Whitely contested the case. In an amended petition, Mrs. Whitely charged that her husband purchased a bottle of carbolic acid and that she feared he would use it in an endeavor to destroy her eyesight. She asked the court for an injunction, preventing him from visiting her.

Mrs. Whitely was at that time employed as a telephone operator in Annville. Whitely is a Lima musician.

SIAMESE TWIN IS NEAR DEATH

Josefa Blazek is Critically Ill With Jaundice

SISTER PRAYS FOR HER LIFE

Demise of One Means Passing of the Other

(BY CARL VICTOR LITTLE)
CHICAGO — (United Press) — Rosa Blazek struggled for life today as her Siamese twin sister, Josefa, faced death.

The twins, 43 years of age, are the ones extant known to the medical profession. Josefa was in a stupor at the Westend Hospital. Rosa, at her side, prayed for her life.

Rosa would gladly follow her sister to death, were it not for Frantz, a bright-eyed 12-year-old son, she told Dr. Benjamin H. Breakstone, leading Chicago surgeon and writer.

"Mother love has triumphed over sisterly affection in this case," Dr. Breakstone declared.

Dr. Breakstone, Dr. Edward Cunat and other physicians today were still uncertain whether the death of Josefa would mean Rosa's death also. Surgeons have not yet given up hope for Josefa who is suffering from jaundice. Her chances for life, however, are slight, they agree.

An X-ray to determine whether the sisters can be separated if one dies, has never been taken, according to Dr. Breakstone. Efforts to part them will be made if Josefa dies, he said.

Rosa smiled wanly as she talked with her son Frantz. Occasionally she would glance at her sister as doctors forced medicine into Josefa's throat.

BORN IN AUSTRIA

Josefa and Rosa were born in Austria. They traveled with shows in Europe for a decade. The sisters arrived in the United States a year ago.

Rosa's husband was killed in the World War.

"It's the strangest case in medical annals," said Dr. Breakstone. "Many Siamese twins have been born, but they seldom reach maturity. We cannot even dare forecast what will be the result if Josefa dies. Rosa may have to follow her sister in death. She may not. We are going to do our best to save her life."

According to Dr. Breakstone's observations, Josefa possesses the same love for Frantz as does Rosa, the mother.

EXPERIMENTS IN STATE HIGHWAYS

The State Department Laid 31 Sections of Roads Near Columbus to Test Durability.

TWO OF 17 TYPES ARE GOOD

Most of the Types Have Lost Their Identity After Ten Years of Heavy Traffic—Some Have Cost $1,500 a Mile For Repairs.

The experimental road, just south of the city limits of Columbus, built in 1912 by the State Highway Department, in an effort to determine the comparative value and length of service of different types of paving, is again in the limelight. Since the road has been built little or no account has been taken of it, until the recent agitation aroused by the destruction of state and county road by tractors.

The recent investigation shows that only two of the original 31 sections of paving have retained their identity. They are the brick and asphalt block sections, which have not been repaired in the nine years they have been in service, in spite of the unusually severe treatment they withstood during the days when Camp Sherman necessitated much heavy truck travel between here and Chillicothe. Each of the other 15 types of paving, including the macadam and petrifalt, have had extensive repairs and the macadam have been resurfaced each year since 1914 and in 1917 it was necessary to rebuild all of the macadam sections.

The cement sections have not needed the extensive repairs that have been given the macadam, but practically every cement block has the contraction and expansion cracks. Considerable wear is shown by the planing of the pebbles used in the cement.

The cost to the state for repairs on the macadam and petrifalt types, each year would be equivalent to $1500 a mile, and the repairs in 1917 would have amounted to more than $8000 on the mile basis, while the asphalt block and brick types are in as perfect condition as when they were laid. As a means of testing the different types and makes of paving brick, as well as the fillers which give best service when used with brick, 15 different sections were laid, with one of asphalt block. The heavy trucks and tractors have not left a dent or crack in the surface of any of these sections. Most of the macadam and petrifalt sections have been resurfaced so many times that their original types cannot be detected, and the records at the Highway Commissioner's office do not hold a complete history of the different types of resurfacing used in these sections, nor the cost of upkeep for a section.

State Highway Officials are being advised of the final results of the investigation, in view of the fact that the road building program for the State of Ohio is upwards of $30,000,000 this year, an enormous per cent of which must be spent in repairing and resurfacing roads of the softer types, already built, and are being asked to recommend roads of more permanent and durable types.

James R. Marker, former State Highway Commissioner, under whose direction the state experimental road was built, has kept closely in touch with the repair work which has been necessary on the road and he points out that the South High Street city paving which was laid while he was Commissioner in 1915, is still in perfect condition, while it has been subjected to the same abuse as the state road, which is constantly being repaired.

"It is impossible to keep tractors and heavy trucks off of the road," said Marker, "and the road building situation will never be much better until the tax payers realize that service value is the only thing that counts in the building of roads."

The holes dug by tractors in about half a mile of road on the Winchester pike started an investigation in road building.

GINGHAM

Gingham bathing suits are quite the newest thing. And the fabric is so warm and treated that little daughter doesn't have to heed mother's nursery rhymed injunction about going to swim.

RIBBONS

A new ribbon which one sees used in trimmings for spring and summer is a very lovely blend of satin and moire. The effect is corded, but beautifully soft.

SPORT CLOTHES

Two colors are used for the major part of the summer sport clothes. A skirt of white will be combined with a cape of bright orange and a blouse of the same tone.

FOR HAIR BRUSHES

After washing the hair brush in warm water dip it into cold water and then let dry. This keeps the bristles stiff.

TASSEL BUTTONS

Tassel buttons are quite the newest thing in the way of buttons. When looped thru the buttonhole the effect is that of a huge tassel ornamenting the garment.

Little tulle collars, pleated and ruffled, are found at the necks of many of the smart new summer silk frocks.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart,
I AM living with my second husband at the present time. My first husband and I did not get along very well and we decided that the best thing for us to do was to get a divorce. We had a little girl and I took her with me. Shortly after that I met a nice man a little older than myself. He had quite a bit of money and I knew he would be good to my little girl and me and so we were married. He is good to me, but he seems to be jealous of my little girl and does not treat her right. Now I have decided that it would probably be better for me to be living with the father of my little girl. What do you think I should do? Do you think I should get a divorce and go back to my first husband?

WORRIED.

MY dear woman, certainly marriage vows seem to be far from being sacred to you. You have not been a real woman, but have been childish and have taken the responsibilities of marriage too lightly. You seem to think that it is perfectly alright for marriage vows to be cast aside at your will.

From your letter I am convinced that you did not marry your present husband because you loved him. You were more concerned with the thought that he could provide your daughter and you with a comfortable home. It is probable you have not taught your little daughter to love him and respect him as she would her own father. The fact that he does not treat her as kindly and fatherly as you would wish, may be largely due to this.

Interest yourself now with what happiness you can give to your husband. Don't make this marriage the same failure that your first marriage proved to be.

Dear Miss Smart:

(1) I am a very unhappy girl and I have two very hard problems before me. I have been going with a young boy for six months. He lives so far away that he has to come Saturday night and stay over night and all day Sunday. Last Sunday when he came I was sick and was not able to remain up. So in the forenoon I retired for awhile. When he got up Sunday evening he said he would not write to me first this week. He felt badly because I did not let him know. Do you think I should have made him feel badly? Do you think I should write first when he says he will not write to me? He has objection to my bobbing my hair. Do you think that is right and would you get him better? (2) Can you tell me where I can get a good place to work for someone wanting an inexperienced girl? "HILL EYED KIDDER"

(1) Your friend was quite ungentlemanly to make such a statement. He probably did not realize at the time how inconsiderate and rude he was acting. Do not think of writing him first. He will, no doubt, realize his mistake in a short time and will favor you with a missive. (2) No, not unless you can win your father's approval. A father usually worships his daughter and is greatly disappointed if she does not measure up to the standard he has set for her. In your case it may just happen that your father does not feel cobbed hair is appropriate for the ideal he has formed of you. (3) Confer with Mrs. Julia Simpson, who is at the head of the Y. W. C. A. employment bureau, Morris Arcade.

SAVING YOLKS

When you have left-over egg yolks you wish to keep, pour a little cold water over them, just enough to cover them and take care not to break them.

VARIETY

Yellow calla lilies, lilies of the valley, apples, plums, cherries in yellow and clusters of grapes are used much for hat trimmings.

FAD

One notices that smart women have set a fashion of having a certain becoming gown copied in several different colors for their summer wardrobes.

TRIMMINGS

Delicate chiffon evening gowns are made imposing with trimming of monkey fur and ermine.

KEEPING LEMONS

Put the lemon you wish to keep under a glass. This keeps the skin from getting hard.

PASTE

A paste effective for mending fine china can be made by dampening rice flour with cold water and simmering it gently on the back of the stove until it becomes quite thick. Since the paste is white it scarcely shows in mending.

CROSS-STITCH

A fad of the moment is the making of wide girdles with wool or silk cross-stitch designs. They are designed particularly for linen gowns and are very attractive.

GRAY AND MAUVE

As evening gowns go into colors, one finds that one of the newest and most interesting combination is that of gray lace over mauve gros de londres. If a gown of this sort is sashed, velvet ribbons in fuchsia would be beautiful.

Stomach Upset, Gas, Gas, Gas — "Diapepsin"

"Pape's Diapepsin" ends indigestion, heartburn in five minutes. Sour, gassy, upset stomach, acidity, dyspepsia; when the food you eat ferments into gases and stubborn lumps; your head aches and you feel sick and miserable, that's when you realize the quick magic of Pape's Diapepsin. If your stomach is in a continuous revolt—if you can't get it regulated—try Pape's Diapepsin. It's so needless to have a bad stomach. Make your next meal a favorite food meal, then take a little Diapepsin. There will not be any distress—eat without fear. It's because Pape's Diapepsin "really does" regulate weak, out-of-order stomachs that gives it its millions of sales annually. Get a large sixty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. It is the most efficient and safe known. It is scientific, harmless, and belongs to every home.

Betty Peete, little daughter of Mrs. Louise L. Peete, is being brought to Los Angeles where, it is believed, she will give testimony that will free her mother, now serving a life term in San Quentin penitentiary.

Mrs. Peete was convicted of the murder of Jacob Charles Denton. Authorities think the child can name the real slayer. Betty is shown above, Mrs. Peete in inset.

BIRTHDAY CAKES

Sister Mary Tells Some Tasty Ways to Prepare Them

If there is a birthday in your family why not celebrate the occasion with a birthday cake with candles? After a plain family dinner a big cake all ablaze with candles makes a party and whether Johnny be 5 or 50 his eyes will pop and he'll love it.

The cake itself may be as simple as one prefers, but the frosting must be thick and the candles just right as to number with one "to grow on." Get the non-drip candles so the frosting may be enjoyed to the full.

BIRTHDAY CAKE

One cup butter, 2 1/2 cups sugar, 1/2 cup milk, 2 1/2 cups sifted flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 8 eggs (whites), 2 teaspoons vanilla. Beat butter to a cream and gradually beat in sugar. Sift flour and then measure. Add baking powder and stir again.

Add flour to first mixture alternately with milk. Add vanilla and whites of eggs beaten till stiff and dry. Bake in two long layer cake pans or three round ones. Bake 20 to 25 minutes in a moderate oven. Remove from pans and put together with little fruit frosting and cover with boiled icing.

TUTTI FRUTTI FILLING

One-half pound raisins, 1/2 pound citron, 1/4 pound figs, 1/4 pound almonds, 1/2 pound crystallized fruit, 1 lemon, 1 1/2 cups confectioner's sugar, boiling milk.

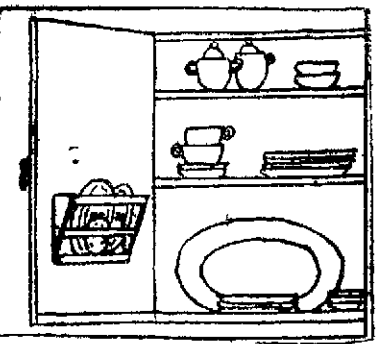

Stone and chop raisins. Cut citron in thin slices. Cut figs in small pieces. Blanch and shred almonds. Use any kind of crystallized fruits and cut in small pieces. Sprinkle over the fruit the juice of the lemon. Add sifted sugar. Heat milk to the boiling point, but do not let bubble. Stir enough milk into the fruit and sugar to make a paste that will spread.

A few grains of salt sifted with the sugar will bring out the fruit flavors to better advantage.

BOILED ICING FOR TOP AND SIDES OF CAKE

One and one-half cups granulated sugar, 1-3 cup water, 1 egg (white), 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 dessertspoon

Save Time Jobs for Father

The lids of pans often fall or slide down off the pantry shelves. Avoid this by making a lid rack on the inside of the pantry doors. These racks will hold many lids and not take up much space.

POLLY AND PAUL --AND PARIS

By ZUF BECKLEY.

THE QUEST GOES ON

One could not have told which came first—the sound of the pistol shot or the cat-like leap of Paul upon the footpad's back. The man let out a snarl of rage as both of them went down together to the pavement. Paul felt as tho he was fighting a threshing machine. Flail-like the fellow's arms and legs flew round, without skill, but with the force of oaken bars.

Meantime Barry, playing for a chance to land a blow on the foot-pers without striking Paul, felt Violet lurch heavily against him. He turned just in time to catch her as she was falling. In his arms she fainted dead away. And on his hands was—blood.

Managing somehow to hold her, he tore off his coat and propped her against it on a step. At the motion she revived a little, opened her eyes—

"Violet! Oh, ma chere—" burst from Barry.

"Hush—it's nothing, only a tiny hurt. He's him!" A swift glance at the two men in their desperate clasp showed Barry that the robber still had hold of the gun and that only Paul's fast slipping grasp of his wrist kept him from firing. Barry made a little swoop, grabbed the fellow's arm and twisted it behind his back until with a groan of pain he dropped the weapon.

Barry's shouts and whistles at last attracted attention, and from somewhere came the sound of "running feet"—a few frightened citizens and a pair of gendarmes.

The rat-eyed man seemed well known to them. "Jack, the Foreigner," he was called, and valuable were the expressions of satisfaction at getting him.

A cab was found and Violet taken by Barry and Paul to a doctor a few streets off.

The bullet had evidently passed between her arm and body, hardly more than grazing the latter.

Relief at learning she was only slightly hurt released Paul's thoughts with sharp agony on his own problem. "Violet," he spoke gently, but it was plain he was half mad with anxiety. "I've not time now to talk as I would want to you. But I must demand disavowal of—of what you insinuated about my wife and—Barry here. I didn't believe you. But when I find Polly I want to tell her you don't believe it either."

"No—I didn't believe it, not really! I was—hysterical. Dismayed with—But I can't tell you now. Some time I will. I only hope I've done no harm."

He flung up his head in a gesture of bitterness and despair. "God knows!" he said, and went swiftly from the doctor's stuffy little office into the gray-streets. One cry kept ringing thru his brain—"Polly! Oh, my girl—Polly! Polly, pray God I find you safe!"

THE LIMA NEWS

IF WINTER COMES

By A. S. M. HUTCHINSON

BEGIN HERE TODAY

A story begins with the remarks of a curious London solicitor, regarding a recent visit to his old friend, K. SABRE, at the latter's home in Tidborough, Penn. Green, who has been married for six years to a woman who is said to be a widow.

It is not exactly suited to one's idea of a story, but the remarks of the solicitor are not without interest in her exhibits and cage. She rather hurried Mark to the kitchen premises and, moving into the garden, replied rather apologetically to his plans for the day's development.

"Mark, I do you hadn't said that in the garden," she said.

"I caught his arm around her waist, and a playful squeeze, out High Jinks and Low Jinks. Dashed funny that, don't you know?"

"No, I don't. I don't think it's a funny," she stated, puzzled. He had tried to explain the absurd thing, and simply could not see it. "I don't know," she said, and again that vague and tantalizing discomfort shot thru him.

He awoke in the course of the night and lay awake. The accident came immediately to his mind and remained in his mind. High Jinks and Low Jinks came. No getting over it. He, of course, but just the kind of thing that tickled him. He, of course, but just the kind of thing that tickled him. He, of course, but just the kind of thing that tickled him.

He was in his shirt-sleeves arranging the books.

He had out his idea, conceived during his sickness, of making the bedroom into which he had moved serve as his study also. He had never got rid of his distaste for his "den."

"At lunch on this Saturday," he told you what I'm going to do this afternoon," he said. "I'm going to move my books up into my room."

Mabel displayed no interest in the move nor made any reference to it at tea-time. In the evening, hearing her pass the door on her way to dress for dinner, he called her in.

"He was in his shirt-sleeves, arranging the books. 'There you are! Not bad?'"

She regarded them and the room. "They look all right. All the same, I must say it seems rather funny using your bedroom for your things when you've got a room downstairs."

But the significance of the remark rested not in the definite relinquishment of the den, but in her words "using your bedroom": the definite recognition of separate rooms.

And neither commented upon it. After all, landmarks in the course of a journey, are more frequently observed and noted as landmarks, when looking back along the journey, than when actually passing them.

CHAPTER IV.

Mabel was two years younger than Sabre, twenty-five at the time of her marriage and just past her thirtieth birthday when the separate rooms were first occupied. Her habit of sudden laughter, rather loud, was rather characteristic of her. Her laugh came suddenly, and very heartily, at anything that amused her and without her first smiling or suggesting by any other sign that she was amused.

She had a rather long nose and this pleased her, for she once read somewhere that long noses were aristocratic. She stroked her nose as she read.

Mabel belonged to that considerable class of persons who, in conversation, begin half their sentences with "And just imagine..." or "And only fancy..." or "And do you know..." These exclamations, delivered with much excitement, are introductory to matters considered extraordinary. Their users might therefore be imagined somewhat easily astonished. But they have a compensatory steadiness of mind in regard to much that mystifies other people. To Mabel there was nothing mysterious in birth, or in living, or in death. She simply would not have understood had she been told there was any mystery in these things. One was born, one lived, one died. What was there odd about it? Nor did she see anything mysterious in the intense preoccupation of an insect, or the astounding placidity of a primrose growing at the foot of a tree. An insect—you killed it. A flower—you plucked it. What's the mystery?

Her life was living among people of her own class. Her measure of a man or of a woman was, were they of her class? If they were, she gladly accepted them and appeared to find considerable pleasure in their society. Whether they had attractive qualities or unattractive qualities or no qualities at all did not affect her. The only quality that mattered was the quality of being well-bred.

CHAPTER V.

The Penny Green Garden House Development Scheme was begun in 1910. In 1908, the year of the measles and the separated bedrooms, no shadow of it had yet been thrown. It never occurred to anyone that a railway would one day link Penny Green with Tidborough and all the rest of the surrounding world, or that a railway to Tidborough was desirable. Sabre bicycled in daily to Tidborough, East and Sabre's, and the daily ride to and fro had become a curious pleasure to him.

There had once occurred to him as he rode, and thereafter had persisted and accumulated, the feeling that, on the daily, solitary passage between Tidborough and Penny Green, he was mysteriously detached from, mysteriously suspended between, the two centers that were his two worlds—his business world and his home world.

"You're quite welcome, my dears," answered Pim Pim. "Here's wishing you a safe journey and a happy return. If I can help you again, let me know."

Then suddenly he was gone, gone was the little trapdoor and every sign of Brownie-land. It all seemed like a dream.

But there were the goloshes! He- hind them in the dim distance was the Electric Mountain! There was the prism glistening and bluing in the sun!

Right ahead was another mountain. It was the Electric Mountain. Pim Pim had told them about it. (To Be Continued) (Copyright, 1922.)

It took a dozen to each shoe the goloshes on over their Green Shoes.

"Now, then," said Mr. Pim Pim, rubbing his hands together. "I shall take you to a secret door which opens out into daylight, right at the foot of the Electric Mountain. You can go over it with safety now, as the electricity cannot shock you thru the rubber soles of your over-shoes. But remember, you must not touch anything you see—no matter how much you want it."

classification and Scholastic Furnish- ings and Dealers, had in Tidbor- ough what is called, in business and professional circles, a good address.

The address of Fortune, East and Sabre was emphatically a good address because its business was with the Church and for the Church; with colleges, universities and schools and for colleges, universities and schools; with bishops, priests and clergy, churchwardens, head- masters, churchwardens, governors and bursars, and for bishops, priests and clergy, churchwardens, head- masters, churchwardens, governors and bursars.

Its address was The Precincts— Fortune, East and Sabre, the Pre- cincts, Tidborough.

Business—on credit only—was conducted on the first floor where- on were apartmented the three prin- cipals—the Reverend Sebastian Fortune, Mr. Twynning and Sabre. There was no longer an East in the firm.

The Reverend Sebastian Fortune was called Jonah by his employees; and he was called Jonah partly be- cause his visits to the places of their industry invariably presaged disaster, but principally for the gross- minded and wrongly-advised reason that he had (in their opinion) a whale's belly.

He bore a certain resemblance to a stunned whale. He was chiefly abdominal. His legs appeared to be- gin, without thighs, at his knees, and his face, without neck, at his chest. His face was large, both wide and long, and covered as to its lower part with a tough scrub of gray beard.

Test the "EASY" Alongside Any Other Washing Machine

Every day, in hundreds of homes the "EASY" is being tested alongside of other washing machines.

Invariably the verdict is in favor of the "EASY," because it does more and better work with less effort than any other electric washing machine. The "EASY" does the work of human hands by natural hand methods. The vacuum cups by air pressure and suction force the hot, soapy water through the meshes of the garments, removing every last particle of dirt. This without rubbing, dragging or tearing.

The garments are placed in the big, open, copper tank, a turn of the electric switch, and the "EASY" does the rest.

It makes no difference what is washed. You will be perfectly satisfied with results.

The "EASY" cannot rust, being made of solid copper, brass, aluminum and enameled steel. The electric wringer swings to any desired position, starts, stops, reverses at will. Gas heater heats water to any desired temperature.

Find out what the "EASY" will do for you by phoning for a FREE demonstration right now while you think of it.

REMBRANDT, LONG DEAD, TEACHES FILM LIGHTING

(By ESTHER WAGNER)
THE greatest advance in the technique of the movies in the past few years has been in lighting effects.

This is most noticeable in Chaplin comedies. Many of his old comedies are now being shown. They are all lit, that is, the corners of the picture and the center are lighted with the same intensity.

"Pay Day," his latest film, was made entirely at night. The scenes in which he attempts to board a crowded street car are the best samples of night photography yet shown on the screen.

Cecil DeMille and his cameraman, Alvin Wyckoff, were the pioneers in "Rembrandt lighting." This method is to highlight one side of the figures and obscure the other side in shadow.

The idea was gained from a study of the paintings of Rembrandt. Hence the name.

Rembrandt lighting gives an appearance of depth to pictures. That creates a note of naturalism.

A writer who conducts a copy-righted column in a New York paper recently called attention to night scenes in "The Loves of Pharaoh," saying that night photography is at last playing an important part in motion picture story and scene.

Night photography is old stuff. Several years ago it was overdone. Almost every picture with an auto in its action had many feet of film in which the headlights made bizarre and garish effects. One of those films was "Always Audacious" in which Wallace Reid played a dual role.

Other interesting features on the same program.

AT THE ORPHEUM:—The Raynor Lehr Company, playing an engagement this week at the Orpheum, are presenting "Jim's Girl" as the attraction today. A change of program will be effected on Wednesday and Friday, matinees.

Madge Kennedy will play the role of the "elephant girl" in "Someone to Love," a circus picture.

Billy Zevan is still seeking stars—and stripes. He was kicked by a zebra at the Sennett studios.

The first musical score synchronized with a photoplay was written by Joseph Carl Briel for "Queen Elizabeth" ten years ago, according to Adolph Zukor.

Jacqueline Logan will play the feminine lead in "The Tailor Made Man," which Charles Ray has just started.

CLOSE-UPS: Mary Pickford brought back forty-five new gowns from Paris. All the skirts are said to tend to length.

George Arliss plans to take a long coveted vacation in Europe this summer.

ATHLETICS WILL NOT SEE CELLAR THIS SEASON, SAYS MACK

PHILADELPHIA — Connie Mack is sure his ball club will be better this year than last.

As a matter of fact Connie is of the opinion that he now has the best ball club that has represented the Athletics since 1914.

In that year the Athletics won the pennant. Since then the club has had a strange hold on last place. Draw your own conclusions as to the strength of Connie's present team.

"Sure the Athletics will be better this year than last. We couldn't get any worse." That is the rather terse manner in which Mack dopes out his team of 1922.

"My pitching is certain to be better. The staff will be about the same as last year, but will have benefited by a year's experience," continued Connie.

"The infield and outfield will be stronger combinations since there is plenty of reserve strength. I have two good men for practically every position.

"The spirit is better. Some of the disturbing elements that didn't tend to promote harmony have been removed. I am not saying what they were, but they no longer exist.

"I am not prepared to say where my team will finish, but I do want to go on record that it will not be last."

Connie is of the opinion that the Washington team will be the dark horse of the American league race.

"New York's pitching staff plus the hitting power of the club should again win the pennant for the Yankees," says Mack. "That club stands out as the favorite by a fairly wide margin.

"The Washington club is the team that must be closely watched. The addition of Peckinpah gives that club the best infield in the American League.

"The Washington pitching is uncertain, however, and Johnson must come thru in big fashion. Likewise Mogridge and Zachary must be as good as they were last year.

"Incidentally, pitching will probably play a prominent part in the chances of Cleveland and St. Louis. Neither club appears to have a strong enough staff.

"It will be about the same as last year in the American League, New York, Cleveland, St. Louis and Washington battling in the first division and Detroit, Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston battling for second division honors."

SOUTH AMERICAN IS LATEST BIDDER

BY HENRY L. FARRELL

NEW YORK — Rather a poor day now when some one doesn't pop up to take Jack Dempsey's crown.

With Brennan, Greb, Gibbons and Willis off the list, North American "hopes" are slim, so outside lands are now stepping into the game.

The latest one willing to take one of the champion's socks in a couple of years is Louis Firpo, 235-pounds of Argentine flesh, the heavy-weight champion of South America.

Firpo's only claim to fame now is a big bulk and a knockout victory over Sailor Mated, a hundred dollar star bout battler, who rose to fame when he knocked out Tarzan Larkan, the "champion of the lumber camps."

Larkan is safe fighter, but he does most of his battling with his manager and seconds.

DEFOREST TALKS IT UP

Jimmy Deforest, one of the first to whisper that Jack Dempsey would get there some day and trainer who got the champion ready for Fred Fulton and Jess Willard, is now showing the South American how they fight up here. Jimmy says he is the most promising prospect he

TRIO OF VETERAN CUB STARS

PITCHING is a ball team's great asset.

For that reason much of the success of the Chicago Cubs this year will depend on the showing made by Grover Cleveland Alexander and Speed Martin.

Alexander didn't have a very good year in 1921. A lot of the experts have expressed the opinion that Alexander has reached the spot in the career where it is only natural that he should start to slip.

Alexander, however, doesn't share

LIMAITES SAY DUGAN BEAT RICHARDS

LIMA fight fans who saw the Blockie Richards-Patsy Dugan feather-weight scrap at Dayton Monday night are of the opinion that the Toledo boy should have been given a decision at the end of 12 rounds of milling, during which he outpointed Richards at almost every stage.

But Jack Dillon, former lightweight champion, secured especially to referee the bouts, declared it a draw.

The majority of the huge crowd that packed the Triangle park amphitheater very clearly was for Dugan.

The decision, however, still leaves Dugan the victor in a three-bout series, Dugan having won by decision over Richards at Springfield and drew with the Dayton boy twice in his home city.

BOUT WITH GROSS IMPENDS

Fight critics from here who looked the fighters over declare Richards is Jackie Gross' next.

Manager Earl Smith, his manager, has made no definite announcement about an attempt to match Blockie with the local boy.

The prediction is freely made that Gross would connect on Richards and knock him for a row of obelisks. The great manner in which he has been showing up makes him loom as a formidable thorn in Richards' side in event the battle with Willie DeVore of

McCOY IN CLEVER BOUT

Johnny McCoy of Rochester, N. Y., cleverly outpointed Quincy Quigley of Cherokee, Iowa, in ten rounds.

Mutt Snyder of Dayton earned an eight-round decision over Norio Epstein.

Barney Winters tossed in the sponge in the third frame of a curtain raiser with Gil Elchoff.

ZAT SO!

NEW ORLEANS — "Can't see for the life of me who's going to beat me out for the pennant," Miller Huggins, manager of the Yanks said after he announced the following batting order—Fowler, 1b; Miller, c; Baker, 3b; Pipp, 1b; McMillan, rf; Ward, 2b; Scott, ss; and the battery.

CHAMPION BILLIARDIST HAS CHANCE TO INCREASE LEAD

CHICAGO — Jake Schaefer, world's champion, 18.2 billiardist, will have an opportunity from his first shot tonight to increase the 34 point lead he established last night over Willie Hoppe, former champion, when he won the first block of their 1500 point, three night match, 500 to 466. Rounding out his fifth century with an unfinished run of 34, Schaefer left the balls nicely grouped at the head of the table for his opening shot tonight.

Hoppe, in his new role of challenger, and Schaefer displayed billiards last night that ran virtually the gamut of the game's possibilities.

WILL BATTLE KID ROUX

Indian Horner, the speedy Lima welterweight, signed articles Monday night at Dayton for an eight-round main bout on the Ludlow Athletic club card, there, April 3, with Kid Roux, hard-hitting New Orleans boxer.

MIDDLEWEIGHT LAD LANDS KAYO

COLUMBUS — Another ledger account was straightened up by Don Bowshe, Lima middleweight, Monday night in Columbus when he hit Jack Phillips of this city with everything except the family cookbook and stretched him out in the third of a ten-round bout.

JAKE POLES HOMRE

CINCINNATI — Cold, damp weather overtook the Cincinnati National League baseball players at Tulsa yesterday but despite this they staged an exhibition game with the Western Leaguers of that city and won it by a score of 12 to 2. Jake Daubert's home run with the bases full was the outstanding feature. Another game will be played there this afternoon.

KROHN IS BEATEN

SHREVEPORT, La. — Glenn Clickner of Tulsa, Okla., won the referee's decision in a fifteen round bout with Harry Krohn of Akron, Ohio, here last night. A right cross sent Krohn down for a count of nine in the fourteenth round. The men are light heavyweights.

SPORT SPLINTERS

UNLESS Kid Gleason can unseat a couple of pitchers who will be able to deliver, it looks like the second division for the White Sox in 1922. Neither Faber or Kerr can do any more than they did last season, and it has been proven that two stars cannot carry a club.

KILL COLD GERMS

Cold germs multiply by the millions. There is always danger of Influenza or Pneumonia. Assist nature to flush the poisons from the system. Use BULGARIAN BLOOD TEA steaming hot at bedtime. Sold by druggists everywhere. —adv.

SHORT SHAVINGS

George L. Parmenter, secretary-treasurer of Rotary, reports a girl who wore a head decorated dress to a dance broke a thread in it. She lost a pint of beads in one spill, recorded the statistical Parmenter.

James E. Sullivan, former postmaster, was called in consultation by a neighbor whose wife run a sewing machine until it stuck. "I found it needed oil," Sullivan said. "My neighbors were much impressed. They think I'm a mechanical genius."

Glen V. John reports a man bought some sodium bicarbonate at a drug store. "Do you want to take it internally?" the pharmacist inquired. "No," said the purchaser, "I want to take it home."

H. E. Simonton, a visitor at Lake View before the ice melted in Indian Lake, was told of a citizen of that village who went fishing thru a hole in the ice. He cut a big hole and fell in. "Why did you make the hole so big?" asked one of his rescuers. He explained: "So that if I fell in I could get out."

Jack Malloy, baseball player, is busy trying to figure out whether it is cheaper to ride in Earl Smith's auto over country roads in bad condition and pay for top bows broken when he is thrown upward as the car hits a rut, or refuse Smith's kindly invitation for a wallow over the highways. "You see," Malloy says, "I like to ride, but in the absence of stirrups to stand up when ruts are encountered, the consequences are disastrous to the auto top and to the cranium of one occupying the rear seat."

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This irritates the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is Multifid coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use. One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, and dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get Multifid coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply very member of the family for months.

GOOD FOR THAT "FLU" COUGH

For quick relief from the wearing coughs that "hang on" after the grippe or influenza, take Foley's Honey and Tar. Mrs. K. D. Drake, Childs, Md., writes: "After an attack of the flu that left me with a severe cough nothing seemed to relieve me till I tried Foley's Honey and Tar, which I can highly recommend." It is also good for croup, whooping cough and colds. It puts a soothing, healing coating over the inflamed surfaces, cuts the phlegm, eases hoarseness, clears the air passages. Chas. J. Vortkamp.
